About the College

Seethalakshmi Ramaswami College, a unit of Padmabhushan Sri. N. Ramaswami Ayyar Educational Complex is an imposing higher education facility in the heart of Tiruchirappalli. Padmabhushan Sri. N. Ramaswami Ayyar, a lawyer turned educationist and a crusader of women's education in this part of the country, founded the institution with the singular objective of empowering women through education in 1951 when women were deprived of the privilege of education. The institution, which was started with a handful of female students, has grown into a temple of learning for higher education, with a strength of nearly 5,000 students. It offers 24 UG, 15 PG, 7 M.Phil. and 8 Ph.D. programmes, 1 Community College and 5 B.Voc. Programmes. Sri R. Panchapakesan, the illustrious son of our revered founder, now runs the institution under his able leadership. It is one of the premier institutions inculcating in young women the values of Indian culture and tradition apart from imparting knowledge, discipline and life skills to brace them to face the brave new world and excel as Nothing Equals Wisdom, the college's motto.

About the Department

The PG and Research Department of English is one of the star departments of the college. B.A. English was introduced in 1967, and M.A. English was introduced in 1970. The department was elevated to a full-fledged research department in 1993. It has periodically revised and updated the B.A., M.A. and M.Phil. syllabi, incorporating socially relevant and job-oriented papers. Task-based English Language Teaching was introduced in 1998 for Part II General English, and since then, the department is actively engaged in Text Book and Supplementary Materials writing. A review seminar on Task-based English Teaching was held in February 2017 to mark the 25th anniversary of materials production. A seminar titled Interrogating the Self: the Postcolonial Prerogative was also organized to mark the golden jubilee year of the department.

About the Conference

The COVID-19 pandemic disrupted the traditional pedagogical methods, especially that of a conventional classroom. It resulted in the stakeholders embracing Internet Enhanced Teaching and Learning methodologies (IETL), Computer Assisted Language Learning (CALL) and Mobile Assisted Language Learning (MALL) for English literature and language learning. Online teaching-learning platforms started gaining significance, and learning management systems became prominent.

The new pedagogy depended on audio-video modules, virtual classrooms, presentations, structured forms and sheets, e-quizzes, e-exams and proctored exams. The paradigm shift in the teaching-learning ideologies and reconciliation with the new normal poses a significant challenge to the teaching fraternity. The Conference aims to bring out the challenges the academia faces in its approach to teach English Language and Literature courses in the Post-pandemic scenario through the deliberations and expert views of the resource persons and participants which will enable teachers and learners to experience the new methods employed in teaching and learning.
